

Together We

Capture, Create, Share

We have stayed at home more than ever in the past one year. Adapting to limited in-person contact and less face-to-face meetings hasn't been easy for many of us. But we know we're doing this to battle the pandemic. The good news is that, as we spend more time at home, many are taking it to social media to share their passions and interests. This has helped us to connect with other humans in ways we had never experienced before. We believe that content creators, photography and videography enthusiasts like you have a unique opportunity to join this wave of social sharing.

Three Ways You Can Participate:

Create a new video post on Instagram

Upload a short video (suggested length is below 30 seconds) about any fun or interesting activity that has kept you going in this season.

OR

Edit the caption of an existing video on Instagram

No time to create a new video? Don't fret! You can also edit the captions of an existing video post which aligns to the central theme of 'Together, We Capture/Create/Share.'

OR

Re-post an existing video on Instagram

Lastly, you may wish to re-post any existing video content which aligns to the central theme of 'Together, We Capture/Create/Share.'
